

Easy to do NO COST REWARDS!

These tried and true NO COST rewards for staff and students make the MS Read-A-Thon extra special for those participating. Recognition is an important piece of the MS Read-A-Thon program, by adding these easy elements everyone involved with feel thanked and appreciated for their reading and fundraising efforts.

Certificates of Achievement: Create a certificate for students' achievements in the program, reading, fundraising, reaching individual or class goals.

10 minutes free time: What a great thing to give... time! Offer colleagues free time where you watch their class or do a joint activity, librarians can host extra time in the library for a class as a thank you to a great teacher. Students can enjoy extra reading, recess or art time. Whatever motivates!

Extra credit: Add the MS Read-A-Thon as part of your English studies and make participation for extra credit!

A congratulatory letter from the MS Read-A-Thon staff or Principal: Everyone likes getting a note or letter to acknowledge what they have done. For staff and students, share their success with others.

Ask for donations from local businesses: Use prizes from local businesses to motivate staff and students – rewards can be given for highest classroom participation, funds raised, and minutes read...

Feature Story: Feature a top reader or top fundraising student, class or teacher in your next newsletter, assembly or staff meeting. Everyone appreciates a little spot light now and then!

Other prizes: Sometimes the MS Read-A-Thon Office have additional awards. Send us your creative motivating idea and we will send you any available awards.
